

What Your Gift Makes Possible

Dear Friends,

At Friends House, generosity is felt in everyday moments.

A resident gets to an important doctor's appointment.

Friends head out together for lunch.

A gardener checks a raised bed for new growth.

These moments help create the independence, connection and sense of belonging that make Friends House home.

This year, your gift can help keep residents connected, care for the campus they help shape and strengthen Friends House for those who will call it home in the years ahead.

Transportation Fund

Every Mile Means Something

Transportation connects residents with medical appointments, shopping, neighborhood restaurants, cultural outings and the people and places that matter to them.

Keeping those connections available depends on reliable vehicles, ongoing maintenance and repairs, and the drivers who help residents get where they need and want to go.

Your gift helps keep life within reach.

Garden Fund

Help What Grows Here Keep Growing

The two-acre community garden is more than a beautiful place. Residents shape and share it through raised beds, a greenhouse, specialty gardens, fresh produce, flowers and habitat for wildlife.

Friends House has earned Garden Wildlife certification and a Wildr score of 92, reflecting an exceptional commitment to stewardship and biodiversity. That work has also received national recognition, with Friends House featured in National Wildlife magazine.

Your support helps maintain the raised beds, greenhouse, trees and native landscapes residents have helped shape, while protecting habitat for wildlife across the campus.

A gift to the Garden Fund helps what has taken root here continue to flourish.

A RIDE. A GARDEN. A LEGACY.

Each is a way of caring for what comes next.

Please make your year-end gift today and choose the part of this community you most want to help sustain.

Every gift, at every level, helps protect the connections, places and experiences that make Friends House home.

Legacy Giving

A Gift That Reaches Beyond Today

Some gifts make an immediate difference. Others continue giving long into the future.

By including Friends House in your estate or legacy plans, you create a lasting expression of the values that matter to you and help strengthen this community for generations to come.

You may never meet the residents your gift will touch, but your generosity can still become part of their story.

If Friends House has been meaningful to you or someone you love, a legacy gift offers a lasting way to say: this place mattered, and I want it to remain strong.

Thank you for caring about Friends House, the people who call it home today and those who will follow.
